Martha R Leary
Speech Language Pathologist
Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada

The following articles explore sensory and movement differences for people with autism. As well, the list includes articles that research the relationships among autism and known movement disturbances such as Parkinsonism, Tourette Syndrome and Catatonia. This list includes many journal articles that are highly technical.

