Student Advising

To support you throughout your course of study, we offer a three-pronged comprehensive approach to student advising—faculty advisors, academic advisors, and peer advisors.

Faculty Advisors

Your faculty advisor is an instructor or professor in the School of Education and is often a professor in your program or department. He/she is available to assist you with academic decision-making and planning, provide support, and help you connect with campus resources. Faculty advisors maintain posted office hours and are available to meet with students on a regular basis. If your faculty advisor will not be available for a period of time, he or she will arrange to have another faculty advisor assist you.

Academic Advisors

The Office of Academic and Student Services has academic advisors who can assist you with your academic and personal needs. Their role is to help you navigate registration; School of Education programs; policies, rules and regulations; procedures regarding grades; transfer credits; and requirements for graduation. They are responsible for keeping track of your academic records, reviewing your credits, and certifying you for graduation. To keep yourself well-informed about your progress, please maintain contact with them at least once a year. They also help with personal or college-life issues.

Peer Advisors

Peer advisors are upper-division School of Education students who serve as a resource for incoming first-year students, beginning in the summer prior to arriving on campus and lasting throughout the freshman year. Your peer advisor is usually enrolled in your academic program of study, and many times hails from a similar geographic area as you. These seasoned veterans of the School of Education are well-trained to answer your questions about academic and social life within Syracuse University and have first-hand experience of what it is like to enter into the School of Education community for the first time.

Registration and Scheduling Adjustments

Registration

Registration begins around the tenth week of each semester. Registration dates are published in the Schedule of Classes available on MySlice. To register, do the following:

- Check your MySlice account to ensure that the only hold you have is an advising hold.
- Schedule an appointment with your faculty/program advisor when you see the advising hold.
- Initiate a meeting with your academic advisor for a credit check and any petitions you may need for fulfilling requirements.
- Prepare a tentative course schedule using search for classes on MySlice.
- Finalize your schedule with your faculty/program advisor and record this on a registration advising form.
- Your faculty/program advisor will then remove your advising hold so you can register.
- Check your MySlice account to view your enrollment appointment and the time your registration begins .
- Follow the prompts on MySlice to register.

Late Registration

If you are a continuing student and did not register during the early registration period, you will register during the first week of classes.

If you are returning from a leave of absence, or have been readmitted you will register during opening weekend or the first week of classes.

In order to register you must:

- Meet with your faculty/program advisor and fill out a registration advising form
- Register online via MySlice

If you are a continuing student who has not registered for any classes by Friday, August 19 (11:59 p.m.) you will be considered a late registrant and will be charged a $50 late registration fee.

Flexible session classes - If the first day of the flexible class has not passed and you have registered for other regular session classes, you will not be charged a $50 late registration fee. But, if your initial successful registration for the term is for a flexible session class and the add deadline for the term has passed, you will be charged a $50 late registration fee.

Changes to Registration

You may not at any time withdraw from courses to the point of becoming a part-time student (i.e., registered for 11 or fewer credits) without the permission of the senior assistant dean. You will not be allowed to withdraw from a course in which you have been charged with an academic integrity violation.

Dropping or withdrawing from a required course may impact your degree progress if the course is a prerequisite.

International students are not allowed to drop and/or withdraw from classes if any of these actions bring their registration to lower than 12 credits, as they must keep a full-time status while studying in the US.

Holds on Registration

A hold on your registration means that a particular office on campus has blocked you from registering.

- Advising Hold: Your faculty/program advisor lifts the hold after your required advising meeting.
- Bursar Hold: Contact the Bursar's office.
- Health Center Clearance Hold: Submit proof of measles and rubella immunization to Health Services, 111 Waverly Avenue.
- Parking Hold: Contact Parking Services.
- Library Hold: Contact Bird Library.
- Probationary Hold: Contact your academic advisor in the Office of Academic and Student Services.
- Academic Integrity Hold: Contact the Academic Integrity Officer

Enrollment Permissions

Permissions allow a student to register for a course that is restricted or full. To register for a restricted course you must contact the department offering the course

Schedule Adjustment

This is the time where students may add or drop classes.

- You must inform your faculty/program advisor about the changes you make.
- When the schedule adjustment period is over, a course may only be added or dropped through the late add/drop process using a paper form with approved signatures.

Late Adding a Class

If you miss the deadline to add a course, you may be able to late add if you have been attending the course from the beginning of the semester.

- Fill out an add/drop form (hard copy form only).
- Have add/drop form signed by you, your instructor, your faculty advisor, and the department chair.
- Submit the form to the Office of Academic and Student Services.

Academic Deadline to Drop a Class

The academic drop deadline is the deadline for dropping a course so that it will not appear on your transcript. You can drop a class on or before this deadline.

- Complete an add/drop form and sign it. Then have your instructor, the department chair, and your faculty/program advisor sign it.
- Submit the form to the Office of Academic and Student Services.

Deadline to Withdraw From a Class

If you have missed the academic drop deadline, you may withdraw from a course up until the withdraw deadline listed on the academic calendar. A WD will appear on your transcript. A WD does not affect your semester grade point average or your overall grade point average. To withdraw from a course:

- Complete and sign a Petition to the Faculty form.
- Obtain signatures from your faculty/program advisor and the department chair.
- Submit the petition to the Office of Academic and Student Services.
- Inform the instructor that you will be withdrawing from the course.
- If you miss the deadline, you can meet with an academic advisor to discuss your options.

Course Overload – More Than 19 Credits

You may enroll for more than 19 credit hours (or more than 7 credit hours in a summer session) only if you petition for and receive the permission of the appropriate person at your home college. Honors students may enroll for a course overload by submitting a request for overload form found on the Honors website. Registration for courses beyond 19 credits is subject to extra tuition charges.

Special Types of Courses and Credits

Independent Study and Experience Credit

Independent study and experience credit are individualized learning experiences that you develop with a faculty member or professional. You may register to receive credit for these experiences.

For independent study, you are actually creating an academic experience for yourself. You must work with a faculty member to identify content, develop assignments, and decide how work will be evaluated.

For experience credit, you will work with a faculty member or a professional in your field of study. You will plan out an experience that relates to your major and that contributes a new level of understanding about your field of study.

To register for either independent study or experience credit:

- Obtain a Proposal for Independent Study form.
- Develop a detailed plan with your faculty sponsor or supervisor.
- Review this with your faculty/program advisor to ensure that it fits in with your program of study and obtain faculty/program advisor's signature.
- Obtain the approval of your department chairperson.
- Submit the proposal to your academic advisor.

If your proposal is approved, the credit hours will be registered for the current semester. Be sure to check on your total credit hours for that semester before registering. After you have completed the independent study or experience, you must follow up with the instructor to ensure that a grade is submitted.

Transfer Credits - Taking a Summer Class at Another Institution

If you wish to take courses at another institution and receive credit at Syracuse University, you must take the following steps:

- Fill out a transfer credit petition form.
- Attach a course description to the petition.
- Get approval for the class contact from the department.
- Obtain your faculty/program advisor and department chair signatures and submit the form to the Office of Academic and Student Services for review.
- You must receive a C or higher in the transfer course to obtain credit-only transfers. The grades for transfer courses do not get calculated into the GPA. Contact the school and have them mail an official transcript to the Office of Academic and Student Services.

Understanding Grades

Mid-Semester Progress Reports (MSPR)

Your MSPR is an evaluation by your professors in the middle of the semester. You can access your report through your MySlice account. If you receive more than two unsatisfactory designations in any category, you will be contacted by Senior Assistant Dean Amie Redmond to discuss your academic status.

Grades

Final grades are posted on your MySlice account.

Grade Point Average (GPA)

The numeric value assigned to the letter grade you receive for each credit hour. The higher your letter grade, the more points you receive. In the same light, the more credits a course is worth, the more points you will accumulate. The numerical equivalents of each letter grade are:

Grade	Numerical Equivalent	Grade	Numerical Equivalent
A	4.0	C	2.0
A-	3.667	C-	1.667
B+	3.333	D	1.0
B	3.0	D-	0.667
B-	2.667	F	0.0
C	2.333

GPA and Cumulative GPA

GPA is a weighted average based on the grades you received and the number of credit hours you complete. Cumulative grade point average is your overall grade point average. Grades from transfer credits are not calculated in your cumulative grade point average, although the credit hours are counted.

Calculating GPA

MySlice has a GPA Calculator which allows you to view your course work to date and see how each grade factors into your cumulative GPA.

Grading Options

Some courses are designated with pass/fail or audit grading options. You may request to take a course pass/fail, but only very early in the semester and only if the course is not required for your degree. Pass/fail or audit does not count toward your GPA.

GPA Requirements

The minimum cumulative grade average to be in good academic standing in all programs in the School of Education is 3.0, with the exception of the Selected Studies program which is 2.8.

Credit Hours

Credit hours are the academic units that you accumulate through coursework. For total credit hours in a degree, please check your individual program requirements.

Credit Hours Earned

The total number of credit hours completed in a semester.

Cumulative Credit Hours

The total number of credit hours completed at Syracuse University.

Credit Hours Toward GPA

The number of credit hours earned that contributed to the grade point average. Not all credit hours you earn are factored into your GPA, such as a pass/fail course or a course transferred from another institution.

Course Grade

Aside from the letter grades posted for courses on your SU transcript, you may also see the following grading symbols on the transcript when the particular grading status applies:

AU	Audit course	Not counted in GPA
I	Incomplete	0 points (equivalent to an F, but can be removed)
NA	Never attended, never withdrew	Not counted in GPA
NR	Not required	Not counted in GPA
P	Pass	Not counted in GPA
RM	Remedial	Not counted in GPA
V	Variable length-course not yet due	Not counted, but replaced by letter grade which is counted
WD	Withdrew	Not counted in GPA

Flagging

Flagging is the replacement of a grade in the GPA calculation after a course is repeated. Both grades appear on your transcript, but only the new grade is used in semester and cumulative GPA calculation. To flag a course, take the exact course over at Syracuse University. Courses may be attempted only three times. The higher of the two grades is counted in the GPA. For courses retaken more than once, the lower grade may be flagged by petition.

Incompletes

With your instructor's permission, you may petition to take an incomplete in a course if extenuating circumstances prevent completion and if you have only a small amount of work left to complete. An incomplete is a contract between the instructor and you outlining how and when the course requirements will be met.

- All Incompletes are factored into the grade point average as zero points, therefore factored into your grade point average as an "F".
- The GPA will change when the Incomplete is removed.

To apply for an Incomplete:

- Obtain a request for incomplete form.
- Ask instructor to fill out the entire form.
- Obtain required signatures from the instructor and the chair of the department.
- Return the form to the Office of Academic and Student Services.

Retaking Courses

Some programs require the retaking of courses in which unsatisfactory grades (as defined by the program) were earned. Retaking courses may also be prohibited under certain circumstances.

- Language courses: A course cannot be retaken once you have successfully completed a higher level course in the same language.
- Mathematics courses: A course cannot be retaken once you have completed a higher level course in the same mathematics curriculum sequence with a grade of C or better.

Dean's List

The Dean's List is recognition of your academic achievement and is awarded every semester based upon the following:

- 3.4 or higher semester grade point average
- Completion of 12 or more credit hours that count toward your semester GPA
- Completion of all semester courses with no missing grades

Degree Programs, Majors, Minors, and Class Standings

Degree Programs

The degree programs offered by the School of Education are:

Single Degree Programs with One Major in the School of Education (School of Education is your home school)

- Health and Exercise Science
- Inclusive Elementary and Special Education
- Health and Physical Education
- Physical Education
- Selected Studies in Education

Single Degree Program with Dual Major with David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics (School of Education is your home school)

- Inclusive Early Childhood Special Education

Single Degree Programs with Dual Majors with the College of Arts and Sciences (Arts and Sciences is your home college)

- English Education
- Mathematics Education
- Science Education
- Social Studies Education
- Spanish Education

Single Degree Programs with Dual Majors with the College of Visual and Performing Arts (College of Visual and Performing Arts is your home college)

- Art Education
- Music Education

Single Degree Programs

A single degree program consists of one major in one school/college. A single degree program requires the completion of all degree requirements within one school/college, including the requirements of one major program of study in that school/college. One degree is conferred and one diploma awarded. Students are enrolled in one school/college.

Single Degree Program with Double Major

A single degree program with double major consists of two major programs of study simultaneously pursued (a) in the same school/college or (b) in two separate schools/colleges of the University. A single degree program with double major requires completion of all degree requirements within the home school/college and the requirements for each major. One degree, certified by the home school/college, is conferred. One diploma, signed by the dean(s) of the home school/college, is awarded. Students are enrolled in one school/college. In some schools/colleges, completion of double majors, especially when the second major is outside the school/college, may require more than the minimum credits required for graduation. Double majors are available only in some schools/colleges.

Single Degree Program with Dual Majors

A single degree program with dual majors consists of two major programs of study simultaneously pursued in two separate schools/colleges of the University. A single degree program with dual majors requires completion of all degree requirements in both schools/colleges, as well as requirements for a major in each school/college or one dually approved major. Upon certification by both schools/colleges, one degree, the degree associated with the home school/college major, is conferred. One diploma is awarded, signed by the dean of each school/college. Students who wish to pursue other dual programs that have not been formally established must obtain the prior written permission of both deans. In cases where the academic rules of two schools/colleges conflict, the policies of the home school/college take precedence. Completion of some dual programs, particularly those with more than two majors, may require additional credit hours. Students are enrolled in two schools/colleges, with one designated as the home school/college.

Arts and Sciences students enrolled in a single degree program with a dual major must earn a minimum of 90 credits in Arts and Sciences. In most cases this will mean that students enrolled in any Arts and Sciences dual program may count only credit earned in Arts and Sciences and the other school/college of enrollment toward the total credit hours required for the degree. Coursework taken in any other school/college that does not count toward the 90 Arts and Sciences credit-hour requirement may be considered excess credit and will appear on the transcript and will contribute to the cumulative GPA, but it will not count toward the credit hours required for the degree.

Majors

Health and exercise science, health and physical education, and physical education majors are single major programs and generally do not allow for second majors because of their rigorous program requirements. The selected studies in education major requires either a second major/concentration and/or minor. The inclusive elementary and special education program has a second major or concentration in an approved liberal arts area. The inclusive early childhood special education program has a dual major in child and family studies with the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics. Secondary education students (English education, math education, science education, social studies education, and Spanish education) have a dual major with the College of Arts and Sciences. They must declare their Arts and Sciences major by their sophomore year. Art education and music education students have a dual major with the College of Visual and Performing Arts.

A second major must be in a field distinct from your first major. Like your first major, it requires 30 or more credit hours in the major area.

If you are interested in declaring a second major

- Speak with your academic advisor about the feasibility of a second major.
- A second major must be declared by the end of your sophomore year.
- Fill out a declaration of major form and obtain signatures from the chair of the major program.
- Return the completed form to the Office of Academic and Student Services or, if you are a dual enrollment student, return to the undergraduate records office of your home college.

Minors

A minor is an area of specialization requiring 18 to 21 credit hours. It must be in a field distinct from your major program of study. A minor is optional and is meant to enhance your complete program if you have an interest in an area beyond the major.

The first step in declaring a minor is consulting with the minor coordinator. The minor coordinators are listed in the course catalog or you may contact the specific department. A minor must be declared by the end of your junior year.

You must declare a minor for it to be official and listed on your transcript. To apply for a minor:

- Fill out a declaration of minor form and list courses taken and courses to be taken to complete the minor.
- Obtain signatures of the minor coordinator for the program and your faculty/program advisor.
- Submit the form to the Office of Academic and Student Services.

Class Standing

The number of credit hours completed successfully determines class standing. The number of credit hours required for each class is as follows:

Freshmen: 0-29

Sophomore: 31-60

Junior: 61-90

Senior: 81 and above

Absences, Readmittance, and Transfer Procedures

Class Absence

Attending classes is expected in all classes at Syracuse University. Attendance in classes is restricted to students who are officially registered. You are expected to arrive on campus in sufficient time to attend, starting with the first meeting of all registered classes. If you do not arrive and attend classes starting on the first day of classes, you may be academically withdrawn by your college or department as not making progress toward degree by failure to attend. Class attendance requirements and policies concerning nonattendance are established by the instructor of each class and are detailed in the class syllabus.

SU's Religious Observances Policy, <http://hendricks.syr.edu/spiritual-life/index.html>, recognizes the diversity of faiths represented among the campus community and protects the rights of students, faculty, and staff to observe religious holy days according to their tradition. Under the policy, you are provided an opportunity to make up any examination, study, or work requirements that may be missed due to a religious observance provided you notify your instructors no later than the end of the second week of classes for regular session classes and by the submission deadline for flexibly formatted classes. Student deadlines are posted in MySlice under Student Services/Enrollment/My Religious Observances/Add a Notification.

Each fall and spring term you must notify your instructor(s) if you will be absent from class for religious observance. You may provide notification via MySlice beginning on the first day of classes. Instructors may access a list of their students who have submitted a notification in MySlice

Faculty Center.

If you must miss classes for a medical or personal reason, you need to contact your academic advisor in the Office of Academic and Student Services who will send a memo to your instructors. You must provide written evidence (a doctor's note, obituary notice, etc.) supporting the reason for your absence before a memo can be sent, according to University policy. It is your responsibility to communicate with your instructors regarding any absence and missed assignments.

Leave of Absence (LOA)

Students may take an LOA for various personal and academic reasons. This is an important decision made through careful consideration with family and University support staff. If for any reason you need to leave the University, you must take the following steps:

- Initiate the LOA process with your academic advisor.
- If your LOA is to go into effect before the academic drop deadline, all courses are dropped.
- If it is after the academic drop deadline, then WDs will be posted for all courses.
- If the LOA is taken after the withdraw deadline, then all grades will be Fs.
- You may also file a leave of absence for the following term and complete your current term.

Medical Leaves of Absence

If you are leaving the University for a medical and/or psychological reason, you must go through the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, and obtain approval of Health Services and/or the Counseling Center for a medical leave to take effect.

Military Leave of Absence

If you are being activated by the military, you should initiate a leave of absence through your academic advisor in the Office of Academic and Student Services or in your home school/college. Your academic advisor will discuss your options to drop courses, take class standing grades, or take Incompletes, as well as the academic implications of these options.

Return from a Leave of Absence

To return from a leave of absence, you must file an application for readmission/termination of leave of absence form.

Readmittance is not automatic.

The Senior Assistant Dean for Academic and Student Services will determine your eligibility to return to the School of Education. This may require a meeting.

- If the LOA was for medical reasons, an evaluation of your present state of health must be submitted to the director of student health services, 111 Waverly Avenue, by your attending physician. Health clearance must be obtained from health services before the Senior Assistant Dean can consider your readmission.
- If you were withdrawn for academic reasons, you are eligible for readmission after one academic year, with the approval of the Senior Assistant Dean.

Intra-University Transfer (IUT) Procedures

If you decide to transfer to another school or college at Syracuse University, you must apply for an IUT. This application process varies by school/college. Contact an academic advisor in the Office of Academic and Student Services or the program or school you are interested in for specific details on the IUT process.

Probation and Suspension

Academic Probation

Academic probation is a program that identifies and assists students who are not making sufficient progress towards their degree in terms of credits earned or grade point average. There are two types of probation in the School of Education:

College Probation (cumulative GPA below 3.0 for all programs with the exception of selected studies in education which is 2.8).

- You will be required to meet with an academic advisor over the course of the semester.
- You will be required to attend two academic support workshops.

Be aware that overall grade point average is not the only criteria. Excessive number of incompletes, missing grades, and/or limited progress toward degree can also be factors in probation.

One Term Trial Probation (cumulative GPA below 2.0)

- You will be required to meet with the Senior Assistant Dean over the course of the semester.
- You will be required to attend two academic support workshops.

If you do not raise your GPA to 2.0 or make sufficient progress toward your degree by the end of the semester, you will be suspended for one academic year.

The minimum requirements for good academic standing are:

- 3.0 cumulative GPA for art education, health and exercise science, health and physical education, inclusive elementary and special education, inclusive early childhood special education, music education, physical education, secondary education programs (English, mathematics, science, social studies, and Spanish).
- 2.8 cumulative GPA for selected studies in education.

Suspension.

Suspension is determined on an individual basis and conditions for return are determined by the Senior Assistant Dean in consultation with School of Education faculty. Any academic suspension may be appealed by contacting Senior Assistant Dean for Academic and Student Services, Amie Redmond.

Any student who is interested in the Honors Program should contact the Honors Program office at 443-2759.

SU Abroad Program | suabroad.syr.edu

SU Abroad offers you the opportunity to study in a foreign country for a full year, a semester, or a summer session without interrupting your normal degree program. All programs offer fully accredited Syracuse University courses. Programs of study abroad are available during the academic year at centers operated by Syracuse University in Central Europe, Chile, China, England, France, Italy, Spain, and Turkey. SU Abroad's World Partner programs allow Syracuse University students to choose from over 60 partner institutions in cities across the globe. Students who choose World Partner programs are often independent and driven. They're usually looking for a very specific abroad experience – film school in Prague, practicing Hebrew in Israel, studying biodiversity in Madagascar – that our center programs just don't have. When you study abroad, be sure to meet with an academic advisor in the Office of Academic and Student Services in advance of leaving.

Academic Integrity

As a member of the School of Education and of the Syracuse University community, you are expected to show exceptional integrity in your academic work and to adhere to University-wide academic integrity standards and policies. As a student, you have a responsibility to understand the nature of academic integrity. Refer to academicintegrity.syr.edu for a detailed explanation of the standards, expectations, and policies for instructor reporting of student violations, university actions and penalties, and the rights of students in the judicial process.

Academic dishonesty is distinguished from academic negligence (deficient academic work without intent to deceive). Only academic dishonesty is subject to disciplinary sanctions. This doesn't mean negligence is excused. Thoughtless, sloppy, or otherwise deficient academic work can result in course failure (or other adverse academic consequences), as determined by the professional judgment of the faculty.

Academic integrity is violated by any dishonest act which is committed in an academic context including, but not restricted to the following:

Use of Sources

Plagiarism is the use of someone else's language, ideas, information, or original material without acknowledging the source.

Course Work and Research

- The use or attempted use of unauthorized aids in examinations or other academic exercises submitted for evaluation.
- Fabrication, falsification, or misrepresentation of data, results, sources for papers or reports; in clinical practice as in reporting experiments, measurements, statistical analyses, tests, or other manifestations of research to achieve a desired result; selective reporting, including the deliberate suppression of conflicting or unwanted data.
- Copying from another student's work.
- Actions that destroy or alter the work of another student.
- Unauthorized cooperation in completing assignments or examinations.
- Submission of the same written work in more than one course without prior written approval from both instructors.

Communications

- Violating the confidentiality of an academic integrity investigation, resolution, or documentation.
- Making a false report of academic dishonesty.
- Dishonesty in requests for make-up exams, for extensions of deadlines for papers, or in any other matter relating to a course.

Representations and Materials Misuse

- Falsification of records, reports, or documents associated with the educational process.
- Misrepresentation of one's own or another's identity in an academic context.
- Misrepresentation of material facts or circumstances in relation to examinations, papers, or other academic activities.
- Sale of papers, essays, or research for fraudulent use.
- Alteration or falsification of University records.
- Unauthorized use of University academic facilities or equipment, including computer accounts and files.
- Unauthorized recording, sale, purchase, or use of academic lectures, academic computer software, or other instructional materials.
- Expropriation or abuse of ideas and preliminary data obtained during the process of editorial or peer review of work submitted to journals, or in proposals for funding by agency panels or by internal University committees.
- Expropriation and/or inappropriate dissemination of personally-identifying human subject data.
- Unauthorized removal, mutilation, or deliberate concealment of materials in University libraries, media, laboratories, or academic resource centers.

If you have questions about policies or concerns about incidents related to academic integrity, please contact Senior Assistant Dean Amie Redmond.

Students with Disabilities

Any student with a disability should be aware of his or her rights. Students can consult with their academic advisor, faculty/program advisor, or peer advisor regarding resources and support. Students with disabilities are also encouraged to contact the coordinator/advisor for Students with Disabilities in the Office for Student Assistance, 306 Steele Hall, 315-443-4327. ## Your Right to Control Personal Information

Syracuse University fully complies with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA). This Act protects the privacy of education records and the sharing of information, establishes the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and provides guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the Act. Copies of the policy established by the University in compliance with the Act are available in the Office of the Registrar, 103 Steele Hall. Questions concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be referred to the Office of the Registrar.
