GENERAL INFORMATION

This Orange Book provides a general overview of Syracuse University's School of Education and its programs leading to a Certificate of Advanced Study. Further University policy on degree study exists in the Graduate Course Catalog. It is important that you familiarize yourself with both of these documents. Although each School of Education program has its own specific requirements, there are many commonalities addressed in the Orange Book. You will find specific program information in the Graduate Course Catalog or on the School of Education web site.

The School of Education is composed of seven academic departments: Counseling and Human Services; Cultural Foundations of Education; Higher Education; Instructional Design, Development and Evaluation; Reading and Language Arts; and Teaching and Leadership. Each department is headed by a chairperson who is also a faculty member in that academic area.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION ASSEMBLY

Many policies of the School of Education, especially concerning academic program requirements, are set by the School of Education assembly. The assembly is comprised of the faculty, staff, and administrators of the school as well as elected student representatives.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION COMMITTEES

The School of Education hosts a number of committees that serve a variety of functions. Many include student representation. All committees welcome input from students regarding the tasks in which they are involved. In addition to these committees, special task groups are also formed throughout the year to address specific issues or problems. Student representatives serve on:

Committee on Degrees and the Curriculum - reviews new programs and courses as well as proposed changes and additions to existing courses. The committee also may study problems related to curriculum as these are presented to the committee or initiated by it.

Committee on Policies, Standards, and Scholarships - establishes policies on admissions and scholastic standing, including student appeals and disciplinary matters against students. This committee is charged with creating processes for the review of scholarship applications.

Committee on Diversity - reviews initiatives to advance the school's mission regarding diversity; serves as a resource for faculty, staff, and students regarding issues and opportunities of diversity in the school; and serves as a liaison between the school and other diversity initiatives at the University.

Certificate of Advanced Study (C.A.S.) programs are varied and serve many purposes.

1. The C.A.S. program in Educational Leadership is a registered program leading to New York State certification.
2. The C.A.S. program in School Counseling is designed to give students who have already completed a master's degree of less than 60 credits (typically 48) in counseling to take an additional 12 (or more) credits to meet the 60 credit requirement for permanent New York State School Counselor certification.
3. Other C.A.S. programs are typically 15 credits providing students, including those in other degree programs, specialization in the areas represented by the C.A.S. program.

Information about C.A.S. programs can be found on the School of Education's web site or in the Graduate Course Catalog.

PROCEDURES FOR THE C.A.S. DEGREE

You are assigned a faculty advisor upon entry into the program.

1. Become familiar with your Degree Works audit page, and look at it often. The School of Education recently began using Degree Works, and we are still revising what is included on some programs' audit pages. (Thank you for your patience!) If you have any concerns or questions about your audit, please contact your Academic Advisor. Your Degree Works audit will eventually be used to clear you for your C.A.S.

Some programs may still also require a C.A.S. program of study form. This is particularly true for programs without a more exact list of course numbers/ requirements, as a way of communicating which courses have been approved. You will complete this form when you know the courses that will be included in your program. Any changes to this approved program can be made using the petition to faculty form.

This program of study form may not be required for programs in which all students have the same requirements; your degree audit page will be used. However, any exceptions or substitutions to the courses listed on your degree audit page must be approved, using the petition to faculty form. Petitions should give all information about the course(s), e.g., course number, title, and credits hours, and a reason for the exception, substitute, or waiver.

2. If your C.A.S. program requires a culminating experience, find out from your program:
  - The nature of the requirement, and what you have to do to meet it.
  - When in your program you should begin this requirement, and how much time is typically required. Depending on the requirement, you may need to be collecting artifacts for a portfolio throughout the program, or may not be able to start preparing for an exam until you have completed most or all coursework. Completion of this requirement and all

General C.A.S. Requirements

1. At least a bachelor's degree; for Educational Leadership, a master's degree. An official, degree-bearing transcript from the institution where you received your bachelor's degree (and master's degree, if applicable) should have either been included with your application materials, or should be sent to Syracuse University before beginning graduate study.
2. Be matriculated in the C.A.S. program for at least one semester. Matriculation may not be backdated.
3. An overall B average in C.A.S. courses.
4. Complete a culminating experience (exam, portfolio, field experience, etc.) as may be required by your program.

of your coursework will determine the appropriate degree award date.

- If you have to complete a form to register for this requirement.

3. Submit a diploma request. The diploma request must be filed before your last semester. It is submitted online via MySlice. (File diploma request)

The diploma request is used for four purposes: to enter an anticipated degree date; to prompt an audit of your academic program information; to allow you to indicate special instructions for imprinting and mailing your diploma; and to insure your receipt of commencement information.

Syracuse University awards degrees and certificates four times a year (May, June, August, and December) but has only one graduation ceremony, in May. If you will complete all requirements by May, June, or August deadlines and wish to participate in the ceremony in May, you must file your diploma request no later than the end of January of that year. If you will complete all requirements by the deadlines for the December graduation date, you are eligible to participate in the following May's ceremony. In this case, you should file your diploma request no later than the end of September before your graduation date. There is also a less formal celebration in December Diplomas are mailed approximately eight weeks after your degree is certified. Be certain to provide an address that will be valid at that time.

Official transcripts may be ordered once the certificate is posted (see registrar.syr.edu transcript page). The certificate is never posted before the award date, and may take longer while we wait for grades, missing paperwork, etc.

CONTINUOUS REGISTRATION REQUIREMENT

You must be continuously registered at SU during each fall and spring semester. If you are not registering for course work, you must register for GRD 998, Degree in Progress for 0 credit hours. You can register online during the registration period for that semester.

For the first four semesters during the coursework phase of a C.A.S. (6 semesters for the educational leadership C.A.S. programs) there is no fee other than a student activity fee to register for GRD 998. You will be charged a $500 fee plus a student activity fee when you register for the fifth semester of GRD 998 and beyond (for educational leadership the fee begins in the seventh semester). This fee indicates continuing engagement in a graduate program; it recognizes the continuing use of faculty, staff, and institutional resources, even during periods when courses are not being taken. It is designed to encourage you to enroll in courses on a continuous basis so that you complete your program expeditiously. Finally, it maintains your active status in the program.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE (LOA)

If circumstances are such that you have to register for GRD 998 for an extended period of time, you may take a one year leave of absence.

If you feel you need more than one year, you must take a permanent leave of absence. If you decide that you want to resume your studies in the School of Education, you can contact your department to be readmitted.

A leave of absence cannot be taken retroactively.

TIME TO DEGREE COMPLETION (FOR EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP ONLY)

You must successfully complete the 30 hours of required EDA coursework for the C.A.S. degree within seven years. If you do not meet this requirement, you need to find out if your program faculty will support a petition to reinstate your out-dated credits.

FULL-TIME AND PART-TIME STATUS

The University's certification of a student's status is based solely on the criteria stated in this rule. Students who meet SU's requirements for full-time or part-time status may not meet requirements for such status as defined by other agencies or institutions. Conversely, students who do not meet the University's requirements for full-or part-time status may be considered full-time or part-time by other agencies.

A graduate student is considered full time under any one of the following conditions:

- registered for full-time study (nine credits for fall, spring, or summer in a program approved by the student's advisor)
- holding an appointment as a graduate assistant or fellow and registered for the semester (fall and spring only)
- registered for fewer than 9 credits but for at least 0 (zero) credits of thesis, dissertation, or degree in progress for the semester and engaged, at a level equivalent to full-time study in one or more of the following activities as certified by your program.
  - studying for preliminary, qualifying, or comprehensive exams
  - studying for a language or tool requirement
  - actively working on a thesis or dissertation
  - an internship
- a proposed plan of study for the semester should be agreed upon between the student and faculty (with the appropriate form signed by both and submitted to the Office of Academic and Student Services).

The maximum course load for graduate students is 15 credits each semester. In some programs the maximum course load may be lower. Registration for additional credits requires a petition and approval of your academic department.

If you are not registered for any coursework, you must be registered for GRD 998 Degree in Progress.

Graduate students may register for a maximum of 6 credits in a six-week session (with Maymester and Summer Session I considered as one session for this purpose), and a maximum of 12 credits in any summer. In some full-time programs the maximum course load may be higher and in some part-time programs the maximum course load may be lower. Registration for credits above the maximum set by your program requires a petition and approval of your academic department.

Graduate students who do not meet the requirements for full-time status are considered part time.

APPLYING FOR CERTIFICATION

New York State Certification

Certification is NOT automatic. Anyone seeking certification must apply on the NYSED TEACH web site and also request Institutional Recommendation from the Career Services and Certification Office.

Institutional Recommendation

For CAS programs that lead to both initial/professional or provisional/permanent certification, institutional recommendations will be provided for both levels when the candidate completes the program and the institution confers the degree. Upon completion of any remaining requirements candidates should apply to NYSED directly. In addition to completing an approved program, certification exams are required. You can visit the New York State Certification Exam web site for more information. IMPORTANT: Educational Leadership candidates must request, at the time they register for the exam, that scores be sent to Syracuse University, to avoid delays in the C.A.S. award and institutional recommendation, and additional score reporting fees.

Candidates are encouraged to apply for certification within two years of their program completion. Should NYSED regulations change before a candidate applies, the candidate will be held to the new standards. Requests past five years will be taken on a case-by-case basis and are contingent upon changes to program title, program number, requirements or NYSED regulations.

Certification in Other States

In the past, reciprocity was a term used in education when a fully licensed educator moved to another state and required a certificate in the new state. The person was usually granted the new certificate without any deficiencies. Today, full reciprocity is rarely granted and Syracuse University does not guarantee reciprocity with any other state. The mobility of educators may still be accommodated on an individual basis, by completing any additional/alternate requirements and application processes specified by each receiving state.

If the out-of-state certification application requires the candidate to submit a form that verifies completion of an approved educator preparation program, send the form, with the original instructions (indicating where to return the form, once completed) to the career services and certification advisor at soecareer@syr.edu.

We can make this verification of program completion only after the applicant has completed the School of Education's approved program degree requirements and after the degree-award date is posted to your transcript. Degree-award typically occurs 4 to 6 weeks after graduation. Syracuse University does not guarantee reciprocity with any other state. The mobility of educators may still be accommodated on an individual basis, by completing any additional/alternate requirements and application processes specified by each receiving state.

Restricted Graduate Credit (Excerpts from Academic Rules, Graduate Course Catalog)

Restricted graduate credit is credit earned at the graduate level by students who aren't matriculated in a graduate program. Restricted credit must be converted to graduate credit in order to be included in a graduate degree or certificate program. All coursework taken as a non-matriculated student automatically calculates toward the graduate GPA unless a petition to flag the courses is submitted to and approved by the department chair of student's program after matriculation in a degree or certificate program.

Conversion to Graduate Credit

- becomes matriculated in a graduate degree or certificate program
- overall average in all Syracuse University graduate work is at least 2.8
- earned a B or better in each course
- courses are part of a degree or certificate program approved by the student's department
- coursework has been completed within the time limit allowed for the degree

Restricted graduate credit earned during the term in which the student became matriculated in the Graduate School is converted automatically to graduate credit.

A student may apply to have up to 12 credits* of restricted graduate credit converted to graduate credit if the student meets all of the following conditions:

*In the higher education degree program, no more than six hours of restricted graduate credit may be converted to graduate credit. In all other School of Education graduate degree programs, no more than nine hours of restricted graduate credit may be converted to graduate credit.

Transfer Credit (Excerpted from Syracuse University Academic Rules found in the Graduate Course Catalog)

At the graduate level, schools/colleges and departments may assess and accept credit

- earned at another regionally accredited graduate school in the United States or at an institution equivalently recognized in another country;
- earned in a course in which the grade earned was at least a B. Coursework completed on a pass/fail basis is not eligible for transfer, unless approved by both the academic unit chair and the dean of the Graduate School; and
- that is an integral part of the degree program.

Transfer credit should be evaluated and posted no later than the end of the semester preceding the semester in which coursework for the degree will be completed. All coursework applied toward a degree must comply with all time limitations.

A maximum of three credits from a combination of transfer and/or external examinations/extracurricular and experiential learning will be accepted toward a C.A.S. Exceptions may be granted by petition to the dean of the Graduate School.

Counting Credits Toward Multiple Degrees and/or Programs

NYSED limits the counting of credits toward multiple degrees and/or programs to protect the academic integrity of each degree and/or program. When a student is counting credits towards multiple degrees and/or programs, in the same or closely related field(s) and the coursework makes up an integral part of the degrees and/or programs, the following restrictions apply:

1. The student must be admitted to the degree program in each of the awarding department/college.
2. In no instance shall course credit be counted more than twice in satisfaction of the requirements for multiple degrees and/or programs.
3. In order to earn two or more degrees and/or programs (including Certificates of Advanced Study (C.A.S.)), you must earn a minimum of 80 percent of the combined total of SU credits normally required for each of the degrees. However, in cases where the C.A.S. curriculum is embedded within another degree program, credit from the C.A.S. may be counted in its entirety for the C.A.S. and other degree.

Exceptions:

Two 12-credit C.A.S. may not be awarded for less than 21 credits (i.e. only one three credit course can be shared between the two C.A.S.).

SELECTED SCHOOL OF EDUCATION POLICY STATEMENTS

School of Education Student Grade

Appeal Process

1. The instructor of record assigns a course grade. If the instructor of record is not a member of the faculty, the faculty member responsible for the course will be responsible for assigning a course grade.
2. A course grade is based upon the instructor's professional assessment of the academic quality of the student's presented work. Such assessments are not negotiable, and disputes about them do not constitute valid grounds for an appeal.
3. If a student disputes the grade, the appeal process for a grade dispute begins with the instructor of record. The student will provide a written appeal, which will include the grounds for which the appeal is being made. If a resolution of the grade appeal is not obtained, the appeal moves to the next level of authority. Valid grounds for further appeal are only on procedural grounds. The level of authority in order is: instructor of record, faculty member responsible for the course, the chair of the department of the faculty member, the dean of the School of Education (or his or her designee), appeals panel.
4. If the student wishes to appeal the decision of the dean, a sub-committee of the School of Education's Committee on Policies and Standards will serve as the appeal panel. The School of Education by-laws, endorsed by the faculty, assigns the Committee on Policies and Standards the responsibility for handling "all appeals by students regarding course evaluations or standing in their programs." The Committee members chosen by the Chair of the Policy and Standards Committee to serve on the panel must be tenured and cannot have had any involvement in the appeal process leading up to this level of appeal. The appeal panel shall have a quorum of at least three.
5. The panel will have the right to meet with the student and the instructor involved in the grade appeal either separately or together and will have the right to request a written statement from one or both parties, at their discretion. The decision to deny the student's grade appeal or to authorize the registrar to change the grade will be final. The panel will inform the student and the instructor of record of the decision in writing.

6. The panel will summarize the appeal case and the decision of the appeal in writing to the Senate Committee on Instruction. The only grounds for further appeal are irregularities in the School of Education's appeal procedures. If such a case occurs, either party may appeal the final decision of the faculty panel to the Senate Committee on Instruction. The Senate Committee on Instruction may either deny the appeal or maintain that the procedure begins again at the point the irregularity occurred in the appeal process.

School of Education Academic Dismissal Policies for Graduate Students

The School of Education requires that all graduate students achieve a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 (4.0 scale) in order to graduate. If at any time the student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.8, the student's matriculated status may be cancelled by the Graduate School upon recommendation of the student's academic program.

Additional requirements are stated in the School of Education's Orange Books and in program and departmental documents. Failure to meet these requirements also constitutes grounds for dismissal from a program of study. Reasons for dismissal include, but are not limited to: failure to pass master's comprehensives or doctoral qualifying examinations; failure to develop appropriate professional skills and dispositions; failure to meet program and professional standards of practice; academic dishonesty and other forms of professional misconduct. At or before matriculation, individual programs will notify students of the program specific requirements they must meet to remain in good academic standing.

When a student is judged not to have met the university, school, or program requirements, the department chair will notify the student in writing of this determination and the recommendation of dismissal from his or her program. A copy of this notice will be sent to the senior assistant dean for academic and student services. If no appeal of the dismissal is lodged within one month, the dismissal will be communicated to the Graduate School.

Appeal Procedures for Program Dismissals

Students have the right to appeal a decision to dismiss them from their academic programs. The appeal must be initiated in writing within a month after the dismissal decision. The written document should describe the basis for the appeal and the remedies sought.

The written appeal should be directed to the senior assistant dean for academic and student services. The senior assistant dean will transmit the appeal to the School of Education's policies, standards, and scholarships committee. The committee will forward a copy of the appeal to the student's department. The committee, or a subcommittee of it consisting of at least three tenured faculty members, will constitute the appeal panel. The appeal panel will make every effort to hear the appeal within a month of the committee's receiving the written appeal. However, the timing of the appeal or its circumstances may require a longer period of investigation.

The appeal panel will not question the requirements the program has set nor will it substitute its own judgment for the judgment of the program faculty about whether the student has met those requirements. Valid grounds for appeal arise if the program fails to provide or implement uniform and consistent requirements, or bases an assessment on other than the stated criteria. Thus, the appeal panel will consider whether the student was provided with "accurate and plainly stated information relating to maintenance of acceptable academic standing," as required by the University Student Handbook and whether the program applied those requirements, and only those requirements, in making its decision.

Students have the right to be accompanied by an advisor from the SU academic community during the hearing. While the student may consult the advisor, the student him or herself must present the case and respond to the appeal panel's questions.

If a student's grounds for the appeal concern issues of disability or other forms of diversity, the student may ask a member of any university support unit to review the case file and act as a consultant to the appeal panel.

The decision of the appeal panel is final.

Approved by the School of Education assembly, on April 27, 2012.
